An Annual Corn Show For All Southeast Missouri.

An annual Corn Show for all Southeast Missouri, why not? And why not a Southeast Missouri Corn Growers' association? The section called Southeast Missouri comprises twenty-seven counties. They are quite distinct in soil and crops from the remainder of the state; but the spirit of the people is the same. The enterprise of the people in holding county and township corn and stock shows has developed many good corn growers who have commanded attention from the state. Many men have been growing high producing types of corn yet unnamed that need only a wider advertisement to become established and recognized breeds.

The time has come when the best interests of this section demand some central corn convention and exposition to unify ideas and ideals in corn growing. When this is done Southeast Missouri will win wide recognition as a corn growing region. Breeders of pure seed will gain wider and larger orders for their seed and the business of corn growing will assume larger proportions. More people, stimulated by wider competition will find it to their advantage to take their winning corn on to the State Corn Show and with a surer hope of success.

Mindful of these advantages and recognizing its position as a school of the people, though primarily a school for the training of teachers, yet recognizing a responsibility in the spread of all useful knowledge, the State Normal School at Cape Girardeau will this year call in the farmers who support it for mutual organization. At the same time the regular Farmers' Week will be held. The program for the week is not yet completed, but is to contain lectures and demonstrations on general farming topics which will be of interest to all who attend.

The government steamer Mississippi, with members of the Mississippi River Commission aboard, left St. Louis at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday on its annual "low-water trip" down the river. The trip makes the 16th semi-annual meeting of the commission on board the boat. The commission expects to complete the trip November 25, at New Orleans, after going as far south as Port Eads, La., where some special levee work will be considered. The commission will hold daily hearings, and plans for new revetment and levee work at different stops along the way will be considered. The boat travels only in day time. The first stop out of St. Louis was at Cairo, Ill., where citizens presented requests for additional levee work. At New Madrid, Mo. citizens were given a hearing on levees and at Caruthersville, Mo., Golden Lake, Ark. and Memphis, Tenn.

The aborigines of the west were represented at the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress, which convened Tuesday. An Indian band of forty pieces furnished music all week. There are members of twenty tribes in the band. Four Indian pages, a Sioux, a Crow, a Pueblo and a Navajo, were appointed to serve on the floor of Convention Hall, where the meeting of the Congress was held. Prominent Indians were on many of the delegations and made addresses. Senator Owen of Oklahoma, who has Cherokee blood in his veins, was one of the principal speakers.

Maccabees in State Rally At Jefferson City.

A state rally of the Ladies of the Maccabees began Nov. 14. A delegation, headed by Mrs. May A. C. Summers, arrived from St. Louis at noon. Mrs. Hadley gave the visitors a reception at the Mansion; Sedalia, Moberly, Mexico and other towns sent delegations.

A lady who was about to start on a trip to the southern part of the world was advised to be sure to look for the equator. On board the vessel she approached the captain and told him she would be greatly obliged if he would point out the equator to her. After awhile he told her they were drawing near, and gave her the use of his telescope. Pulling a hair out, he held it in front of the telescope and said to the lady, "there is the equator, can you see it?" "Oh yes, yes," said she, excitedly, "and there's a camel on it!"

Betrayed at the last minute by the machine he had trusted so long, Galbraith Rodgers, transcontinental aviator, tumbled 300 feet out of the clouds Sunday afternoon on the last lap of his flight from ocean to ocean. The scene of the last accident to the conqueror of the air was at the little village of Compton, some miles south of Los Angeles. The aviator was badly hurt. His doctor says he has internal injuries that may end his career as a birdman, and his machine, the famous Vin Fiz, is a total wreck.

Proposed rock of Kings-highway south of Sikeston, which was voted on, carried four to one. Kingshighway is the oldest road in Missouri, and runs in a straight line from New Madrid through Sikeston to Ste. Genevieve. The length of the road voted upon is ten and one-fourth miles. Scott county is building many rock roads. The next move will be to build rock roads intersecting Kings Highway and building of the Sikeston and Charleston road.

Fleeing to get out of the town which was threatened with being wiped out by an explosion of 15,000 pounds of dynamite, 400 residents of Orango, Mo., returned several hours later to find that twenty miners employed in the Yellow Dog mine, at the risk of their own lives, had removed explosives from a burning mill. The mill, valued at $200,000, was destroyed by fire.

J. H. Watkins, a popular real estate agent of Oran, called at the Herald office Tuesday and left an order for some high-grade job work. Mr. Watkins was enroute to Neelys Landing to attend a celebration of his mother's 83rd birthday, she being a member of a family consisting of five generations.

Miss Hattie Harris, seventeen years of age, attempted suicide by taking carbolic acid, Saturday last, at Sikeston. Disappointment in a love affair is said to have caused her to seek to end her life. She recovered after the physicians had reported a hopeless case and the rally and hopeful came as a surprise.

Leon Heatley, a saw mill man who conducts a mill on the Hoxie branch of the Frisco, lost an arm by backing unconsciously against a cut-off saw, cutting his arm between wrist and elbow. The accident occurred Saturday.

Thieves entered the station office at Brooks Junction Saturday night and "lifted" $51.92. As there is no night office at the junction the larceny had full sway.

Rev. T. F. Lowery has resigned as pastor of the Sikeston Baptist church after a long pastorate.

Some Advice on How to Escape Pneumonia.

Don't expose yourself to cold. Don't refuse yourself plenty of fresh air.

Keep yourself dry. If you get wet change garments at once. Too much heat predisposes you for an attack of the disease.

Don't drink alcoholic beverages or smoke to excess. Both lower the resistance power.

Sleep in a room that has plenty of fresh air and not too much heat.

If you work in a hot office, keep bundled up when on the street.

Don't let a cold go too far; it weakens the power of resisting pneumonia.

Be regular in habits.

Don't be afraid of the cold weather.

Don't run from a hot room into the street.

Don't take a hot drink and return immediately to the cold air.

If you remain indoors most of the time, don't wear too heavy undergarments. Depend more on overcoats and mufflers when you go out.

If you start wearing heavy overshoes be careful about going out without them.

Keep yourself in a normal condition.

The Banks bankruptcy case was up before Judge Ross Friday for another hearing. Banks was formerly in business at Oran, but his holdings were recently turned over to the bankruptcy court for adjustment, and finally a proposition was submitted to settle on the 50c-on-the-dollar basis and allow Banks to resume business, and the latter proposition will likely be accepted, although we have no definite information to that end. Banks' liabilities are said to aggregate $27,000. His children are parties to the case, claiming several thousand dollars due as wages.

The lead-producing counties of Missouri, according to the state blue book, are Cole, Franklin, Green, Jasper (the largest), Jefferson, Lawrence, Madison, Moniteau, Newton, St. Francis and Washington.

A New Dish.

There was recently presented to a newly married young woman in Baltimore such a unique domestic proposition that she felt called upon to seek expert advice from another woman whom she knew to possess considerable experience in the cooking line.

"Mrs. Jones," said the first mentioned young woman, as she breathlessly entered the apartment of the latter, "I'm sorry to trouble you, but I must have your advice."

"What is the trouble, my dear?"

"Why, I've just had a phone message from Harry, saying that he is going out this afternoon to shoot clay pigeons. Now, he's bound to bring a lot home, and I haven't the remotest idea how to cook them. Won't you please tell me?"

Creed and Deed.

A Scary Horse.

A man in upper New York State, who was desirous of purchasing a horse for the use of his wife, recently entered into negotiations with a veteran horse dealer.

"Now, I'm not so particular about speed," said the prospective purchaser, "but I must have a gentle horse."

"Here is one that I'll warrant to be perfectly safe," said the dealer, indicating a sad-looking steed nearby.

"Are you sure he is not afraid of anything?" insisted the man.

The dealer assumed an air of deep reflection. "Well," he said, "there's one thing he has always appeared to be afraid of ever since I got him. It seems as if he's scared to death for fear some one might say 'Whoa!' and he not hear it."—Pittsburg Leader.
